Message of
His Excellency the President of the Portuguese Republic
on the occasion of the Month of Portugal in the United States of America

Marcelo Rebelo de Sousa

President of the Portuguese Republic

Portugal was the first neutral country to recognize the independence of the United States of America. From that moment on a close alliance between the two countries was forged. Today and tomorrow – like it was in the past – the relations with the USA are and will continue to be a priority axis of the Portuguese Foreign Policy.

We are linked geographically by the Atlantic, with the Azores being the first European port in the North Atlantic. We are also connected by the values that shape the transatlantic space. But most of all what brings us closer is the human dimension of a partnership built day by day by the one and half million American citizens who identify themselves as being of Portuguese origin.

The activities of June – Month of Portugal in the USA are meant for them. It is a way of expressing how proud Portugal is of them and how thankful we are for their work in turning this alliance unbreakable and unshakeable.

Message of
His Excellency the Prime Minister of Portugal
on the occasion of the Month of Portugal in the United States of America

António Costa

Prime Minister of Portugal

Portugal and the United States face each other across the Atlantic, united by shared values, enduring alliance bonds and strong people to people friendship. Building on our ancient ties we are determined to renew our age-old partnership. In this Month of Portugal, we invite you to discover modern Portugal, a country open to the world, with a friendly business environment, and where investments in infrastructure, technological innovation and the qualification of young people are bearing fruit. A new frontier to be explored.

We invite you to celebrate as well the shared heritage, connecting past, present and future, of the countless Portuguese that throughout the decades crossed the Atlantic to find in the United States a new and welcoming home. They carried with them their language, culture and history and built vibrant communities all across the territory of the United States.

Their successful integration and contribution to the prosperity of the American nation is the strongest bond uniting our countries and peoples.

Message of H.E. the Minister of Foreign Affairs of Portugal
on the occasion of the Month of Portugal in the United States of America

Augusto Santos Silva

Minister of Foreign Affairs of Portugal

The relations between Portugal and the United States of America are based in history and geography. Portugal was the first neutral country to recognize the independence of the United States and, since then, we have been building a strong relationship in strategic areas.

We are neighbours across the Ocean, and the Azores bring us closer together; the Portuguese–American community expands our ties; we are Allies in security and defence; the economic exchanges between our two countries are gaining new dynamics; the Portuguese and the North American Universities are reinforcing their exchanges; Portuguese is gaining more relevance as a foreign language in the United States’ education system.

In order to further enhance this relationship, we are organising the Month of Portugal in the United States of America, touching upon economy, culture and diplomacy. It is organised in close cooperation with the Portuguese Communities. We want to make clear that we are fully aware of the importance of our bilateral relation, but especially that we want to make it even stronger. We keep in mind the importance of the history behind us but we want to explore new dimensions: that is, in our opinion, the best way to foster long lasting relationships.
